FINER CITIZENSHIP IS GREATEST WORK

SAYS DR. FRED KELLER AT K. OF C. BANQUET

RELIGION IS PRIVILEGE

About 275 Persons Attend Knights of Columbus Activity at Residence Hall Last Evening

"We are always willing to join hands with any organization that makes for a greater citizenship," said Dr. Fred Keller in extending a welcome to the Knights of Columbus and their parents and friends at the banquet in Residence Hall at the State Teachers College last night.

"It is a fine thing for us to get together—Catholics and Protestants—and all work together for the common good," Dr. Keller continued. "I am sure the finest work this institution is doing is looking forward to a finer citizenship in Northwest Missouri. If we are to have a finer state, we must all look forward to the development of a finer and better citizenship among all peoples.

"Whenever Catholics and Protestants can get together in a brotherly understanding, we have added much to a greater citizenship. As individuals, a spirit of social good will and understanding is not only what we need in the world today but what we need among private citizens as well.

"You have the right to belong to the political party of your choice and profess the religion that you will and that should not hinder us from being good neighbors," Dr. Keller concluded.

Uel W. Lamkin, president of the State Teachers College, who was to have delivered an address at the banquet last night, was unable to be present.

About 275 persons were in attendance. Music was furnished by the Yehle Orchestra. A violin solo was given by Verle Pierse and a vocal selection by Anna Dougherty. A monologue was given by J. Donald Ferritor. The Rev. Father Lawrence was toastmaster at the banquet.

Barney Reilly of St. Joseph delivered a short address on, "A Catholic —His Country and Government." He told of the service of Catholics in all the wars America has fought and that they were just as patriotic as any other religious group.

"Show me a group of people that has been more faithful to country or God than the Catholics," said Mr. Reilly. "The basis of all good government is founded upon honest religious beliefs, be they Protestant or Catholic. The first white people to place their feet on American soil were Catholics. They discovered your country and mine. De Soto planted in the soil of our Missouri a spirit of loyalty, liberty and freedom. DeSoto was a Catholic.

"A man's faith is what binds him to God. The Catholics have shown not only love of country but a willingness to respond to their country's call, be what it may."

The Rev. Father Henry Niemann told of the progress of Catholic education throughout the country. He told of the various schools established by the Catholics. Not only private schools but a number of great colleges and universities have been built by Catholics, he said.

"Great sacrifices have been made to construct these great educational institutions," Father Niemann said. "Every dollar for the support of them is by voluntary contribution by members of the Catholic Church. We do not receive anything from the public revenues and we do not ask it.

"Besides supporting our institutions, we gladly pay our taxes for the support of the public schools.We are interested in everything that is for the good of our country."

Father Niemann then told of the work of Catholic educators in the Middle Ages and what their discoveries have meant for the twentieth century. Almost all the prominent universities in Europe received their charters from the Popes at Rome, he said. Modern sciences are founded upon discoveries made by Catholics, Father Niemann continued.

Referring to the opposition to the Catholic schools, Father Niemann said that if the Catholic schools were closed in the City of Chicago, the public schools of the city would not be able to accommodate the students. This would mean that more schools would have to be built and this would greatly increase the taxes of the people, he said.

"We are paying our own way, and we are doing it because we think it necessary," Father Niemann continued. "The Catholic Church is not against the public schools but the Catholic Church does know that true education cannot exist where it is not founded on the development of the whole of man. Education without morality, without religion, cannot be called education in the proper sense of the word. We would gladly hail the day when religion could be brought into our public schools, not for our sake but because we love our country."

Father Richard Felix of Conception, B. L. McShane of Kansas City, Kans., and Dr. C. L. Smith of Conception Junction were present at the banquet last night and made short talks.

W. G. SAWYERS FILES FOR PROSECUTOR

ANNOUNCES TODAY CANDIDACY FOR PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

FOR 'CLEAN-UP' PROGRAM

States His Candidacy is Due to His Own Desire and Not on Insistence of His Friends

William G. Sawyers, made announcement today of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for prosecuting attorney. Mr. Sawyers was formerly prosecuting attorney of this county.

With Mr. Sawyers in the race, there are two candidates for the Democratic nomination, George Pat Wright having filed his candidacy a few weeks ago.

In a statement, Mr. Sawyers says:

"I am asking for the nomination for the office of Prosecuting Attorney at the August primary. Let me say that my candidacy is due to my own desire, and not on the insistence of my friends. Therefore, if nominated and elected, I shall be under obligations to no one, not common to all. However, I shall look to my friends and those who really are wanting a "clean-up" program put into effect, to nominate and elect me. Certainly the people of this county will agree with me now, that such a program was never in greater need here.

"At this time, I covet the opportunity to demonstrate what an earnest, attentive officer in this office can do, hence my candidacy. I refer to my record in office and out of office with considerable satisfaction. I trust that your continued confidence in me will be forthcoming.

"If successful in this ambition of mine, I can only say that it will be my purpose as an officer to give the office the time and attention it calls for, and to see that the laws are promptly and rigidly enforced, remembering at all times that those who obey the law are entitled to protection from those who violate the law. Just now, I make this statement of my intention, so that an oft asked question may be answered publicly. I assure the voters of the county that I shall, as always, appreciate your confidence and support."

NODAWAY LEADS IN FAIR CONTRIBUTION

FURNISHES BOTH MEN AND EXHIBITS AT SEDALIA

WINNERS LAST YEAR

Bellows Brothers Capture Number of Premiums on Fine Cattle—Hosmer is Prominent Worker

(Special to the Democrat-Forum)

Sedalia, April 28—Nodaway County, with its contributions of both men and exhibits, has been a leading promoter in the progress and advancement of the Missouri State Fair during the last three years. In that time it has sent to the Fair Grounds at Sedalia, two of the leading men on the management staff and a number of the prize winning exhibits.

C. D. Bellows, Maryville, president of the Missouri State Fair Board, was elected by members of the board to his present position last year, following the death of A. C. Dingle, Moberly, former president of the board. Under the capable management of Mr. Bellows, the association produced an exposition last year that exhibited many noteworthy achievements, some of which were without precedent in the twenty-three years of Missouri State Fair history. Among these was the fact that the institution started the incumbent year with a cash balance of over $55,000 and only $2,119.91 in outstanding warrants, bringing the cash margin for operation this year up to an excess of $53,000. Letters of commendation for the service and management of the Fair come to headquarters daily, attesting to the popularity of Mr. Bellows and his administration. Mr. Bellows term of office as a member of the Missouri State Fair Board expires next year.

R. P. Hosmer, Maryville, another Nodaway County's contribution to the management's staff of the State Fair, is now serving his third consecutive year as Superintendent of the Admission Department. He was appointed to the position by the Fair Board in 1922. Visitors to the Fair, it is said, form their first impression of the annual exposition by the manner in which they are received at the gates. Mr. Hosmer has always handled this matter in an efficient and courteous manner and complaints from such quarters have been few during his three years. He also superintends the collection of tickets from the gates and from "White City," the free camping ground and maintains a fence guard to see that small "Willie" and perhaps some of the elders, do not gain admission to the grounds some way other than through the gates.

In the class of Shorthorn cattle, the Bellows Brothers, Maryville, won two firsts, eight seconds, eleven thirds five fourths, three fifths and one sixth prize on all classes at the State Fair last year. Their firsts were taken in the classes of one cow three years or over with calf by side and the senior yearling heifer. The other premiums were somewhat generally divided among the other classes, the brothers placing in practically all of the classifications for shorthorns.

In other classes of exhibits Nodaway County farmers and industrial men have gained an unique reputation as being outstanding exhibitors at the state fair.

Nodaway county's contribution to the personell staff as well as the annual exhibits, to the state fair, is a considerable factor in making the institution a success. And the success of the Twenty-fourth Annual State Fair to be held at Sedalia, August 16 to 23, can then be attributed in no small degree to Nodaway County.

Her record will now be sent to the New York office for verification and filing. This is considered one of the highest honors in the typewriting field. Miss Puckett will teach commerce in the Clarinda, Ia., High School next year.

League Is Indispensible Says Irving Fisher

Tells College Students This Afternoon It Cannot Be Modified—"U. S. Cannot Kill It."

"The League is indispensible," said Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University in speaking to the student body of the College this afternoon at 3:20 o'clock on the subject, "The Interest of America in World Peace."

"Even with all the ingenuity expanded by over 22,000 contestants for the Bok prize," continued Professor Fisher, "no practical substitutes for the League could be found. It has been clearly demonstrated that the only world organization through which permanent peace can be established are the Permanent Court of International Justice and the League of Nations."

Professor Fisher then continued to point out that if the Senate had been of the same political complexion of both Democratic or Republican the proposition would have carried. As it was, the vote in the Senate was 55 for and 35 against the League of Nations.

"We may modify the League," continued Professor Fisher, "but we cannot replace it.' The League of Nations will live. The United States cannot and ought not to kill it. And the United States needs the League just as truly as the League needs the United States," concluded Professor Fisher.

OMAHA VISITORS TO BE HERE MAY 21

WILL ARRIVE AT 4:30 O'CLOCK IN AFTERNOON

125 TO BE IN PARTY

Includes Twenty-five Piece Band and One Hundred Business Men of Omaha—Leave at Midnight

One hundred business men of Omaha and a twenty-five piece band will arrive in Maryville at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of May 21, according to a letter received today by L. H. Brownfield, secretary of the Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

The excursionists will leave Omaha on May 19 and will return four days later. It is purely a good will trip, the letter says, and the Omaha men want to meet the merchants and citizens of Maryville.

They intend to leave here about midnight on May 21, depending largely upon the arrangements of the railroad company toward getting them into Page Center, Ia. early the next morning.

Continuing, the letter says:

"As stated above, we will have our own music and will be very pleased to furnish music for any plan of entertainment your business men may see fit to extend to the Omaha delegation. Quite a large number of our men appreciate a dance, or would be glad to take part in any other entertainment you might see fit to arrange for. We are sure that anything you may do will be appreciated.

"Upon the arrival of the Omaha train, the representatives of this market would like to call on your business men for a short time in their own places of business and if we arrive on time, as we expect to, this need not interfere with any arrangements you may see fit to make for later in the evening."

M. H. S. ORCHESTRA TO COLUMBIA THURS

TO COMPETE THERE DURING THE STATE MUSIC WEEK.

GIRLS' QUARTET ALSO

Will Take Part Among Contestants—Thirty-Six Members of Orchestra to Make the Trip.

The Maryville High School orchestra and the girls' quartet will leave Thursday morning for Columbia to compete with other high schools of the state during music week, Loren Schnabel, director of the orchestra, announced this morning.

The same personnel, thirty-six pieces that won the cup in Class A during the spring contests at the College Friday evening, will make the trip. As three of the girls in the quartet are members of the orchestra, the other member, Miss Catherine Gray, will accompany the orchestra. Miss Laura Hawkins, of the high school faculty, will be in charge of the girls on the trip and Mr. Schnabel will have charge of the boys.

A pullman will be chartered to carry the Maryville contestants to Columbia. The Maryville board of education, by an unanimous vote, decided to pay the expenses of the orchestra while on the trip. During the time the musical organizations are in Columbia their lodgings and meals will be furnished to them. The pullman will leave here at 10:52 o'clock Thursday morning on the Wabash and be transferred at Centralia to the branch line that runs into Columbia.

The Maryville orchestra is entered in class A schools. Mr. Schnabel said this morning that the local High School organization has a fair chance of winning the trophy, but he said that the members will learn as much, if not more, by the experience, if they lose, than by winning. A number of the larger city schools in the state have already sent in entries for their orchestras, among them being Springfield, Kansas City schools, St. Louis schools, Jefferson City, Sedalia and St. Joseph, with others that have not been made known yet.

The Maryville orchestra will play in the preliminaries on Friday morning. In the case the local musical body is successful it will get into the finals which will be held at 2:30 o'clock on Friday afternoon. A trophy is awarded to the winning orchestra. The orchestra that is awarded first place will then play Friday evening at the Artists' Concert program. Mr. Schnabel said this morning that the Maryville orchestra will play in competition at Columbia the same piece it rendered Friday evening at the College auditorium, "Orpheus Overture" from an opera, by Offenbach.

The girls' quartet will participate in the preliminary in this event at some time Friday morning and if the local girls pass the first round, will sing in the finals of the girls' quartet contest at 3:45 o'clock on Friday afternoon. According to the rules in this contest the selection is specified, "Ashes of Roses," by R. G. Cole.

In speaking of the orchestras that will compete at Columbia this week, Mr. Schnabel said that the only orchestra in the state of which he is really leary, is the Joplin High School orchestra, which is conceded of having the best high school orchestra in the United States, and Mr. Schnabel did not know whether Joplin was entered at Columbia.

Mr. Schnabel at one time lived at Columbia and attended the Columbia High School and the University, also having charge of the Columbia High orchestra. He said that nothing would please him more than to have the Maryville orchestra show up the orchestra of Columbia High.

The Maryville Board of Education thought itself justified in sending the High School orchestra to Columbia in view of the fact that it is not encumbered with the expense of having to pay a salary for a regular musical director, as some of the other cities in this part of the state that had musical organizations which competed in the spring contests at the College the last week. The director of the High School orchestra is an instructor in manual training and has charge of the music as a side line.

The Rev. D. W. Conner of Bridgewater, Ia., came today to visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Goforth, and family. He will also visit another daughter, Mrs. M. E. Medsker of Skidmore.

FOUR ARE REMOVED FROM DEATH MINE

TWO BODIES BURNED BEYOND RECOGNITION

ONE HUNDRED STILL IN?

Rescue Party, Penetrating Mass of Debris, Reports No Sign of Living Workman—Blast Early Today

Wheeling, W. Va., April 28.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon, four dead had been removed from the mine of the Wheeler Steel Corporation at Benwood. Two of the miners removed were burned beyond recognition. The other two mutilated bodies were recovered from an opening several miles from the mine entrance.

Rescuers who penetrated 2,200 feet through the mass of twisted timbers reported no trace of living men and said it was doubtful if any would be rescued from the mine alive.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 28—Within the mill mine at Benwood of the Wheeler Steel Mill Corporation today are entombed 104 or more miners whose fate is unknown.

They were trapped at 7:10 o'clock this morning by an explosion that occurred within five minutes after the mine train had passed into the mine.

The miners are caught midway between the regular elevator shaft and an air passage 3,000 feet back in the passageway, the mine officials announced.

The entrance to the passageway is blocked from the regular elevator shaft, and rescue workers who have descended down the narrow stairway into the mine from the air shaft, have not penetrated far enough into the passageway to ascertain if the miners are blocked in their escape from the rear by the cave-in, or have been killed in the blast.

The first effort to enter the mine to determine the fate of the workers was made by a rescue party, equipped with gas resisting appartus, but after penetrating 1,500 feet into the shaft, they were forced to abandon the efforts because of the blocking of the passageway by debris. No trace of any miners was found along the way.

A special train from Pittsburg has been rushed to the scene of the disaster.

St. Joseph Bank Is Upheld by U. S. Court

Washington, April 28.—The Supreme Court of the United States held today that a national bank could not be denied the privilege to exercise trust power by laws of a state.

The Supreme Court of Missouri ruled that the Burnes National Bank of St. Joseph, Mo., was prohibited from acting as an executor by the laws of Missouri.

The bank appealed on the ground that national banks, operating under federal statutes, could not be regulated in this regard by state laws.

Capital's Service To The Consumer

Says James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, "No matter who owns the capital, capital works for everybody. The oil companies own the gasoline, but they have to tote it to the roadside where everyone can get it. Equal division is the goal that capitalism constantly approaches. No man wants all the gasoline. He wants six gallons at a time with a service station every few miles. Capitalism performs this service for him. Under 'capitalism', so-called, wealth is more equally divided than under any other system ever known."

The so-called "capitalists" who control the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) are 46,016 stockholders, the majority of them small investors who earned and saved the money to buy stock.

This capital, because it is brought together in a large aggregate, is able to serve the community more effectively than if it were divided up and parceled out into 46,016 separate holdings.

In 1923 this capital brought millions of barrels of crude petroleum from the oil fields, so that during 1924 the 4½ million automobiles of the Middle West may be supplied with gasoline and oils.

This capital has erected large, modern, scientifically equipped refineries, in which to apply the most efficient cracking processes, so that the maximum amount of gasoline may be produced from the crude oil.

This capital has built up a distribution system, with storage depots and service stations at strategic points, throughout the Middle West. By means of this enormous and complete distribution system, petroleum products are delivered to the ultimate consumer with the utmost economy, and the motorist who needs but one gallon at a time receives as efficient service as the manufacturer who buys thousands of gallons.

Without capital the oil would stay in the ground, or at best would serve but a few people adjacent to the oil fields.

By serving the thirty million people of the Middle West with petroleum products, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) makes it possible for you, wherever you may live, to enjoy the benefits of the petroleum wealth of the United States. Without the employment of the capital of the stockholders of this Company this would not be possible.

Under efficient management of a highly experienced Board of Directors, the capital of the 46,016 stockholders of this Company is working night and day for the service of the community.

NOT all the good news is in the news columns. Women, especially, find important events—important because they solve her personal problems—in space such as this:

For here she learns of the remarkable new starch discovery, LINIT—the same starch which the great fabric manufacturers have long used to give that soft and pliable finish to garments and fabrics you admire so much in goods fresh from the store.

LINIT is a new scientific starch for household use, distinctly different from old-fashioned starches. It penetrates and preserves fabrics and makes inexpensive cotton or mercerized garments look and feel like linen. Since LINIT eliminates lint, fabrics stay clean and fresh longer.

Weakley-McClary Wedding

The wedding of Miss Virginia Weakley to Mr. Harvey Clark McClary Saturday night at the First Presbyterian Church in St. Joseph was attended by the following guests from Maryville: Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gillam, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wolfers and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Montgomery. Yesterday's St. Joseph Gazette contained the following account of the wedding which will be of interest to Mr. McClary's wide circle of friends in Maryville, his former home:

Apple blossoms, snapdragons, palms and ferns were used to make the First Presbyterian church a place of charm and to provide a beautiful setting for the simplicity which marked the wedding at 8 o'clock Saturday night of Miss Virginia Weakley, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence O'Neil Weakley to Harvey Clark McClary. The vows were spoken before an altar banked with palms and ferns, the ceremony being read by Dr. Joseph Rennie, pastor of the church.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Mary Rich Lyon, who played the wedding music at the wedding of the parents of the bride, played Nevin's "Love Song" and "Narcissus," one of Mendelssohn's songs without words, and "Love in a Garden." Miss Agnes Neudorff sang "Il Est Doux, Il Est Bon," and Schubert's "Serenade." During the ceremony, Mrs. Lyon played "O Perfect Love" (Massenet). Immediately after the benediction, and preceding silent prayer, Miss Neudorff chanted the benediction. Mrs. Lyon played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as a processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, made perfectly plain and straight, but made exquisite by the back cape and cascades of rich point lace, which fell the length of the gown. The cascades were caught in points by pearl tassels. This real lace is a treasure in the bride's family, and is the third time it has been used on a wedding gown, first being the dress worn by Mrs. Theron Catlin of Clarksville, Mo., and then on her daughter's gown, Mrs. William Weakley, and now for Miss Weakley's gown. The bride's veil was held in place with a circlet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. William Weakley was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pale beige shade crepe chiffon trimmed in lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses and blue hyacinths.

Miss Alice McClary, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Janet Weakley, sister of the bride, were the bridesmaids. Miss McClary wore a gown of poudre blue crepe chiffon and Miss Weakley was in rose color crepe chiffon. The gowns were made alike, and were along simple lines, straight bodies and full clinging skirts, with girdles of silk flowers. They carried arm bouquets of Columbia roses.

The ushers were Webb Siemens, Bartlett Boder, William Weakley, Ed Grant, Burt Clifford of St. Louis and Randolph Davis Andrew McClary of Windsor, Vt., brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

After the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, to which only relatives and very intimate friends were asked. The rooms were decorated with apple blossoms, and the dining table was centered with a basket of jonquils and the wedding cake, which was baked by the bride's childhood nurse. It contained the traditional dime, thimble and ring. Yellow candles were used to complete the table decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. McClary left for an eastern wedding trip, and will visit the bridegroom's home at Windsor, Vt., and upon their return will be at home in the Eugene Field apartments.

The True Story of Woodrow Wilson

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

CHAPTER VI.

How Mr. Wilson's Ideas of Personal Responsibility In Party Leadership Led Him to Believe He Should Be Nominated For a Third Term.

Nothing perhaps illustrates more forcibly the psychological effect of the parliamentary idea on the mind of Woodrow Wilson than his determination to attend the Paris peace conference as the head of the United States delegation. It was no sudden decision arrived at in the two weeks between the signing of the armistice and the day he set sail. Mr. Wilson had seriously considered going to Europe even in the months when the United States was neutral if by personal and official meditation he could bring about world peace. When Mr. Wilson did go to Paris to represent the United States in a conference of belligerents, people on this side of the Atlantic failed to grasp the significance of his relationship to the other negotiators.

It was not a conference of sovereigns—no kings or emperors were present. It was a conference, however, of the heads of parliamentary governments—prime ministers and premiers. In point of rank all were on an equal footing except Mr. Wilson who was not only prime minister but the head of the state he represented. By virtue of his dual role, he was entitled to the consideration due both offices.

To have stayed in America and sent a member of his Cabinet as head of the delegation would have permitted the prime minister of Great Britain and the premiers of the other countries to outrank the chairman of the American delegation. This did not comport with Mr. Wilson's idea of the dignity of the United States as an equal nor was it consistent with the influential part America had played in articulating the aims of the war. The Secretary for Foreign Affairs in the British Cabinet, Arthur Balfour, and the Minister of Foreign Affairs in the French Cabinet, Stephen Pichon, were members of their respective delegations but they did not preside. Prime Minister Lloyd George, the head of the British government, and Georges Clemenceau, the French premier, as well as Signor Orlando, the Italian premier, together with the President of the United States made up the famous "big four" who conducted the Peace Conference.

It was the first time in history of the American republic that the Executive of the presidential system and the head of the parliamentary system came face to face. Mr. Wilson found himself constantly explaining the differences between the two. The British Prime Minister and the other premiers were able to commit their governments to a specific line of action. President Wilson told his colleagues he could not do so. He needed the concurrence of two thirds of the United States Senate to approve his negotiations. The other negotiators were sure of their parliaments—if they had not been they could not have remained at the peace conference. A crisis back home would overnight have forced a resignation or a general election. Mr. Wilson had lost a majority of both houses of Congress but hoped to win non-partisan support for the treaty because never in American history had a treaty of peace been rejected by the United States Senate.

In this same connection it is pertinent to disclose what were Woodrow Wilson's reasons for declining to appoint to the American peace delegation any members of U. S. Senate. He was bitterly criticised for his failure to do so the argument being made that since treaties can be made only with the advice and consent of the Senate, the latter body should have representation on the mission which negotiates the treaties. Mr. Wilson never made public his viewpoint on this. But he gave nevertheless careful consideration to it before he announced the personnel of the American peace delegation. He called for an opinion from the Department of State. The opinion rendered was in consonance with a belief always held by Mr. Wilson that President McKinley made a mistake when he appointed two members of the Senate, a Democrat, and a Republican, to sit on the delegation which concluded a treaty of peace with Spain after the war of 1898. The action of Mr. McKinley was debated at length in the Senate at the time, some of the best constitutional lawyers of the day contending that it was improper to permit a member of the legislative branch of the government to hold any office with or without compensation in the executive branch of the government. On this point the Constitution says:

"No Senator or Representative shall during the time for which he was elected, be appointed to any civil office under the authority to the United States, which shall have been created, or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased during such time; and no person holding any office under the United States, shall be a member of either House during his continuance in office."

Woodrow Wilson was a keen student of the Constitution. That memorable document placed the negotiation of treaties entirely in the domain of the Executive. Mr. Wilson felt that not his secretary of state or any special commissioner he might appoint but he himself, the Chief Executive, would be held responsible for the negotiation of a treaty, especially one of such vast importance as that ending the greatest war in history.

So he took no members of the Senate with him believing that anyone who took part in the negotiation of the treaty would be in a sense disqualified from voting in an unprejudiced way on it as a member of the Senate and that the framers of the Constitution were wise in insisting that members of Congress should not hold office under the authority of the executive branch of the government as would have been the case if the Senators became a part of the peace delegation subject to the instructions of the President and Secretary of the State.

When President Harding appointed Senators Lodge and Underwood special commissioners to act with the Secretary of State in negotiating the four power treaty with Great Britain, France, and Japan, Mr. Wilson felt that the Constitution had been disregarded again as in the McKinley case. The answer made by the other side was that since the Senators received no compensation they were eligible, but Mr. Wilson's objection was that they could not remain Senators and act under the authority or orders of the executive branch of the government at the same time.

The ill-fated appeal of October 1918 when President Wilson asked the American people to elect a Democratic Congress was really a natural development of his theory of party responsibility. He asked for a Democratic Congress because Republican leaders had expressed opposition to his declaration of peace aims. He feared embarrassment by his opponents in the making of peace. His fears were confirmed. Even before the Executive could complete his negotiations with other governments, the Senate by informal round-robin expressed dissent. In January 1920 after the weary deadlock in the United States Senate over the ratification of the Versailles treaty in which was incorporated the constitution of the League of Nations, President Wilson again conscious of party responsibility appealed for a national "referendum" to decide whether the United States should accept the Treaty and enter the League of Nations. He made the suggestion for a "referendum" in a letter to a national gathering of Democrats at a Jackson Day banquet—an occasion for party counsel. Six months later when the Democratic National Convention was in session in San Francisco, Woodrow Wilson felt that he should be nominated again for the Presidency so that he might make the fight for the League. He held that his leadership was on trial and that since he had made the record he should enter the lists as its defender.

These were the days when Woodrow Wilson had suffered a physical break-down. He had no serious thot, of course, of retaining the presidency for a third term if elected. But he hoped his health would return so that he might seek vindication by a personal appeal to the voters. His party associates at San Francisco including Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, who was to have made the motion to suspend the rules and nominate Woodrow Wilson for the presidency, joined in a telegram to the White House advising their chieftain that circumstances would prevent the passage of such a motion and that the plan had better be abandoned. The telegram was never published and Mr. Wilson never replied.

Was the election of 1920 the referendum Mr. Wilson sought? He never thought so. Thirty-one Republicans including such eminent statesmen as Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes and Herbert Hoover signed a statement issued to the Republican voters of the country declaring that a vote for the Republican presidential candidate was a vote in favor of the League of Nations with suitable reservations. When the Republican nominee took office he announced in his inaugural address that he would not favor entering the League with or without reservations. The interpretation of Republican policy on which presumably millions of voters had cast their ballots was declared to have been erroneous. For that reason Woodrow Wilson hoped for a clear-cut issue in the platforms of the presidential contest but he died before the lines of battle for 1924 could be drawn.

So to the end Woodrow Wilson carried his theory of personal responsibility to the party that had honored him with its leadership for eight years.

(Tomorrow's chapter will deal with the intimate side of Woodrow Wilson's life).

This is according to the schedule that was adopted at a meeting of representatives of seven golf clubs at Clarinda yesterday. According to the arrangement each golf club will play six matches at home and six matches away from home. Forrest Gillam and Marc V. Sims of the Maryville Country Club were at the meeting yesterday.

The new Golf Association, composed of clubs from Clarinda, Shenandoah, Red Oak, Hamburg, Villisca, Corning and Maryville, was christened the Iowa-Missouri Inter-Club Golf Association. At the meetings of these clubs, schedule of play was adopted and the rules of the association formulated.

Each match will be 18 holes of play. At the suggestion of Forrest Gillam, the Maryville representative, an invitation tournament to be he'd each time the teams meet, was accepted with an unanimous vote. This means that there will be ten or twelve invitation matches besides the regular tournament matches, to be played according to the Association schedule.

The tournament matches will be scored in the following manner:

The team that makes the most bogies, one point; the most pars, one point; and the lowest team score, one point; making a total of three points possible for one team to win over another in a one match, six man team.

James Crone of the Shenandoah Golf Club was elected president of the Association. The other officer elected was Max E. Brown, secretary. The secretary is to be notified as to the results of each match, then in turn is to immediately notify each club the total results of the week's matches so that each team's standing in the Association can be published.

The matches that will be played at the Maryville Country Club:

Hamburg here, May 4.
Corning here, May 11.
Shenandoah here, May 18.
Villisca here, June 22.
Clarinda here, July 13.
Red Oak here, July 20.

The matches that the Maryville team will play away from home are as follows:

At Corning, May 25.
At Shenandoah, June 1.
At Villisca, June 8.
At Clarinda, June 25.
At Red Oak, June 29.
At Hamburg, July 6.

The complete schedule of the other clubs follows:

At Clarinda — Villisca, May 11; Corning, May 18; Hamburg, May 28; Shenandoah, June 15; Red Oak, June 8; Maryville, June 25.

At Corning—Clarinda, July 20, Hamburg, July 27; Maryville; May 25; Red Oak, July 9; Shenandoah, July 13; and Villisca, June 11.

At Hamburg—Clarinda, June 1; Corning, June 29; Maryville, July 6; Red Oak, May 25; Shenandoah, June 11; and Villisca, July 13.

At Red Oak—Clarinda, May 4; Corning, June 25; Hamburg, June 15; Maryville, June 29; Shenandoah, July 27; and Villisca, May 18.

At Shenandoah—Clarinda, June 9; Corning, May 4; Hamburg, May 14; Maryville, June 1; Red Oak, June 22; Villisca, May 25.

McGill's Date Here Is Postponed for Awhile

A telegram was received this afternoon by Dr. Thomas from Kansas City that John Pesek and Big Bill Dristy, both heavyweight wrestlers, had been booked to appear here on May 5. They will wrestle on the stage at the Empire Theater after the program at the College is completed that evening which is about the same time that the first show at the Theater is finished.

Pesek, although having lost to Lewis this winter, is a wrestler of the top rank and one of the most spectacular on the mat. Big Bill Dristy is recommended by Pat McGill, and says he is a hard man to beat.

The heavyweight wrestling match that was promised the fans for about two weeks in the future at the time that Pat McGill was here, has been postponed, according to Dr. D. J. Thomas, due to unforeseen circumstances.

McGill is angling for some big matches in the East and he will not wrestle here for perhaps a couple of weeks.

There is nothing like having the unexpected happen to show up a man's true nature.

Tiger Places First in Discus at Penn Relays

The University of Missouri and the Kansas Agricultural College of Manhattan, Kan., showed to the East that the Middle-West was not lacking for top-notch athletes, when representatives from these two schools broke into the lime-light at the Penn Relays, held at Philadelphia Saturday. Athletes from England and Canada were also present at the meet.

D. G. Richerson, of the University of Missouri, one of Bob Simpson's pupils, took first place in the discus throw. He put the discus out 140 feet 9¼ inches. The closest throw which took second place in this event was made by Kanrich of Pennsylvania, at 134 feet 6½ inches.

Riley of the Kansas Aggies won second in the 120-yard hurdles, coming in behind Snyder of Ohio State who broke the tape in 0:15 2-5.

Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth

You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth . . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and will do it. Also it will aid digestion and furnish welcome refreshment to mouth and throat.

WRIGLEY'S after every meal

Mr. Owl

TO RENT—A HOME.

Every family that goes forth to rent a home wants and needs something just a little different from every other family.

Every bungalow, house, or apartment listed "For Rent" is just a little bit different from every other one.

Consequently, it is a big problem for a tenant to find, out of a whole city, the particular living quarters best suited to him.

It is an equally big problem for a landlord to find the family that will be best satisfied by the quarters he has to rent.

Consider, though, how much more difficult it would be, were it not for the Democrat-Forum want ads.

A want ad of only a few lines describes a house for rent so completely that the attention of the particular families who happen to be looking for just such quarters is attracted immediately. Others don't come.

This is efficiency. The Democrat-Forum want ad is the efficiency expert that is most frequently called in when homes are to be rented.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nixon, who has been a resident of Hopkins the past forty-eight years, celebrated her 90th birthday last Friday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Everett Whitney and entered into the spirit of the occasion with as much zest as the younger ones present, being wonderfully well preserved both in mind and body for one of her years. Only three of her children were present to help celebrate the important event—Mrs. Vic E. Jesperson, of Casper, Wyo., who came with her daughter, Miss Myrtle Moore especially for this gathering. The other two children were Miss Mattie Nixon, of St. Joseph, and Mrs. Alma Whitney in whose home the party was held. The other children are John Nixon, in the garage business at Falls City, Nebr.; Will Nixon, with the Tootle-Campbell Dry Goods Company of St. Joseph; Wayne Nixon, a lumberman of Drummond, Okla.; Mrs. George Shearer, of Greeley, Colo., and Mrs. Mary McFarland of Braddyville, Ia.

Last Monday, Sam Schoonover who is working for the township as engineer on the big road engine, drove the machine to the city water plant to fill it with water and when within a few feet of the building, he released the clutch or rather tried to release it. For some reason it would not disengage and before he could kill his power, the big engine crashed into the northwest corner of the plant, splintering the door and knocking the entire southwest corner of the building down. Contractor Alf Owens is now repairing same and believes the cost will be less than $100, and this will be paid by the township. Neither the engine nor the engineer were hurt in the accident.

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair With Sage Tea

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

Well-known druggists say everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

PAVING RESOLUTION NUMBER A 11

A resolution providing for grading, paving, curbing, guttering and otherwise improving Lincoln street in the City of Maryville, Missouri, from the center of the intersection of Buchanan street with Lincoln street, west on said Lincoln street to a point thereon 132 feet west of the west line of Walnut street, when projected across said Lincoln street.

Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Maryville, Missouri, as follows:

That the Council of the City of Maryville, Missouri, hereby find and declare that they deem it necessary so to do hereby order, direct and require that Lincoln street a public street in the city of Maryville Missouri, from the center of the intersection of Buchanan street and Lincoln street in said city, west on said Lincoln street to a point 132 feet west of the west line of Walnut street when projected across said Lincoln street, be graded, paved, curbed, guttered and improved as hereinafter provided.

The roadway of said street shall be graded to the width required to construct and install the paving and integral curbing as hereinafter set forth and described by the excavation and filling of dirt where required to bring the surface of such street to the grade necessary so that when the paving and integral curbing hereinafter mentioned shall be installed on said street on such grade, the surface of said pavement when completed will be on the grade established for said street by ordinance number 956 of said City of Maryville, Missouri, duly passed and approved on the 31st day of March, 1924, and as shown by the profile thereof hereto attached and made a part of this resolution.

The center line of said street to be improved to be the center line of said grading, paving, curbing, guttering and improvement, and said paving, curbing, guttering and improvement to be of the width of 24 feet and 10 inches or 12 feet and 5 inches on each side of the center line of said street to be improved, measured from outside of curb to outside of curb across the roadway of said street.

The paving and integral curbing herein provided for shall be of concrete and composed of one part of Portland cement, two parts of sand and three and one half parts of crushed stone properly mixed and installed so as to make good and proper concrete. The concrete paving to be 24 feet in width and 7 inches thick, and to be reinforced by ¾ inch marginal steel bars and 40 pounds of reinforcing mesh to each 100 square feet of pavement, the pavement to have a deformed joint along the center line and transverse expansion joints at intervals of 33 feet extending through both pavement and curbing. All such transverse expansion joints to be filled with a bituminous felt filler and to be connected with steel dowel pins 4 feet long and spaced 3 feet center to center.

The curbing to be constructed and installed integral with the pavement, the same to have a base 6½ inches in width battered to 5 inches in width at the top, and to extend 6 inches in height above the surface of the pavement, to which the same connects, thereby making 6 inch gutters, the top of said curbing on the inside to be beveled on a 2 inch radius and also at the bottom where same connects with the paving to be beveled on a like radius, all as shown by the drawing of the cross section hereto attached and made a part of this resolution. Said pavement to be crowned concentric and uniform in accordance with the grade given for said street by said Ordinance Number 956, and to be a uniform plane lengthwise in accordance with the grades on said street as fixed by the aforesaid ordinance. Provided however, that curbing shall not be constructed across the roadway of intersecting streets or alleys but the curbing shall extend outward on each side of the street improved at all cross or intersecting streets, a distance of 10 feet and shall be installed on a curve as made by a radius of 10 feet so that the opening between the outside ends of said curbing when measured across the roadway of intersecting streets will be 24 feet from inside of curb to inside of curb and at alley intersections said curbing shall be constructed on a curve as made by a radius of 3 feet and extend outward a distance of 3 feet from the line of the pavement and the opening between the lines of curb as extended outward at alleys when measured across the roadway of such alley from inside of curb and inside of curb shall be 12 feet.

The cost of the aforesaid paving, curbing, guttering, grading, excavating sub-grade and improvement on the aforesaid street to be improved as hereinbefore set forth, shall be paid for with special tax bills and a special tax and assessment shall be levied and assessed against the lots, tracts and parcels of land chargeable therewith in proportion to the front foot, to pay the cost of the same and only the cost of bridges or culverts, if any, shall be paid for out of the General Revenue funds of said City of Maryville.

Be it further resolved that this resolution be published according to law in The Democrat-Forum, a newspaper printed and published daily in said City of Maryville, Missouri, the same to be published for seven consecutive insertions, and if a majority of the resident owners of the lands that will be liable for the cost of the aforesaid improvements, at the date of the passgae of this resolution, who shall own a majority of the front feet owned by residents of said city abutting on the parts of the streets to be improved, shall not within ten days after the date of the last publication, file with the city clerk of said City of Maryville, Missouri, their protest against the aforesaid improvement, then the Council of said City will cause said improvement to be made, contract therefor and levy a special assessment against all the property abutting thereon and liable therefor, to pay for the same as by law provided.

15TH ANNUAL MEET IS GREAT SUCCESS

SIX TRACK RECORDS ARE BROKEN THIS YEAR

LOCALS WIN SIX CUPS

Saturday Afternoon's Event is Run Off in Quick Time—Due to Eliminations Held in Morning

Six track records broken in the Boys and Girls meets, clever dramatic contests, speedy shorthand and typewriting, home economics and agriculture contests which showed great efficiency, and music contests which were superior to any previous contests were the outstanding features of the fifteenth annual Spring Contests which closed Saturday at the College.

The track meet was run off in fast time despite the slow track. All of the events were finished by 4:30 o'clock and the trophies were awarded to the winners. This is the fastest time the track meet has ever been held by the College. A large part of this was due to the eliminations which were held Saturday morning. Preliminaries were held in all of the field events excepting pole vault. The six highest contestants in each event participated in the finals during the afternoon. Eliminations were held in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes.

No track records were broken during the boys meet on account of the slow track, which resulted from the rain in the morning. Hiatt of Bethany broke the old records in the shot put and discus when he heaved the shot 42 feet, 11½ inches, and flung the discus a distance of 114 feet, 2 inches.

McReynolds of Trenton broke an old record in the pole vault when he cleared the bar at a heighth of 10 feet, 9¼ inches.

Maryville copped six cups during the meet. They won the tableau, orchestra, chorus, girls and boys track meet cups and the girls relay cup. Thirty cups in all were offered by the College for the winners of different events in the contests.

Mrs. A. R. Perrin, chairman of the housing committee for the spring contests, wishes to thank the people of Maryville for opening their homes and caring for the track meet guests in such a hospitable manner. Turner Dismisses Case Against Court

Mandamus Suit Was Dismissed This Morning Before Judge Guy P. Park of Platte City.

The mandamus case of State of Missouri, ex rel. Frank A. Turner against Judge E. T. Bailey, Judge Charles E. Walker and Judge Charles Armstrong of the county court, was dismissed by the relator and the plaintiff in circuit court this morning by Turner's attorneys. Judge Guy B. Park of Platte City came to Maryville last evening to sit as special judge in this case, a change of venue having been taken in the case. Judge Park was elected circuit judge in the sixth judicial circuit at the 1922 election. He was a member of the constitutional convention.

According to rumor, Turner is on a deal to trade his pool tables to Deb Strong of Conoeption for his pool hall. In that case, Turner would go to Conception Junction and Strong would move to Maryville. It was said Turner would be able to get the consent of the city officials of the Junction for a license and that probably Strong would be able to get a pool hall license from the city commissioners of Maryville. Strong would conduct a barber shop in his pool hall. If the city license was granted, then the county court would issue county license.

The case of Turner trying to get a pool hall license has been up for several weeks. The city commissioners refused to grant him licenses and then an effort was made to compel the county court to grant him one. The county court refused the license to Turner, then the mandamus case was brought.

The city commissioners are going to refuse pool licenses hereafter unless the persons applying for such licenses are proper persons. There is some sentiment here against all pool halls and it may be in the next few years efforts will be made to do away with all poolhalls here.

Italian Violinist Here on May 8

When an "obscure violinist," to quote the opening words of a famous New York critic, after reviewing his first big concert of the season at Carnegie Hall, steps out, in a single evening from the "obscure" class into the glowing circle of prominence, the musical public sits up and rubs its eyes.

This is what happened to John Corigliano, the Italian violinist, who will appear here in concert Thursday evening, May 8, during Music Week. He will appear with Alfredo Oswald, the Brazilian pianist, and the children's chorus of 200 voices.

JOHN CORIGLIANO

Corigliano was never a child prodigy in the more abused sense of the word, he awaited his time before succumbing to any premature craving to appear, unprepared, before the public.

When he did appear the critics accorded him by far the most cordial praise that they bestowed on any other violinist of the year. He has followed up his success by appearing with some of the most noted Symphonic Organizations, including the New York Philharmonic Orchestra under Joseph Stransky, and since then has been increasing his audiences and his popularity wherever he goes.

Mr. Fisher is one of the foremost political economists in the United States, and he is professor of this subject at Yale University.
